BOOTH

Many of our EXPO exhibitors choose to sell their booth displays at the end of the tradeshow, saving the time and expense of transporting products back home. This creates a great opportunity for attendees to purchase items directly from the show floor.

New this year, you can browse a list of exhibitors offering their booths for sale and connect with them directly about buying their booths—before or during the event. This list will be updated frequently, so be sure to check back for some amazing opportunities!
